Report: Indian Constitution and Secularism

Name of the Programme: Guest Lecture on Indian Constitution and Secularism

Date of the Programme: 26/07/2022

Venue of the Programme: Dhande hall

Number of beneficiaries/Participants: 52

Brief Summary of Programme:

Department of History and Political Science in the college was organized lecture on "Indian Constitution and Secularism" by Prof. Ganpat Venkatarao Dhumale. While describing the background of secularism, Professor Dhumale explained the entire situation of the Enlightenment period in Europe. This program was chaired by Prof. Dr. Gauri Rane and Prof. V. J. Patil, Dr. P. N. Tayade were the Chief guest of the program.

Professor Dhumale told about Secularism in the point of view of the country of India, it was influenced by liberal ideas like western education, equality before law, rule of law, freedom, equality, fraternity, democracy during the British period.

Although the principle of secularism was not initially included in the Indian Constitution after India's independence, secularism was evident in various provisions of the Constitution. According to the Constitution of India, every person has the right to freedom of religion, i.e. the right to propagate, spread, inculcate the principles of religion, worship according to religion. But while practicing our religion, it is necessary to take care not to encroach on the freedom, autonomy and dignity of another person. If the practice of one's religion interferes with the freedom of another person, the state interferes with the religious institution.

Prof. Dipak Kinge, Head of the Department of History introduced the Speaker and Dr. Rupali Chaudhari anchored thanked behalf of the Department. There were 52 faculty members participated in the program.
